

Over the last year I have learnt so much, not just about riding, but also general horsemanship at Nine Acres. I've had a lot of fun getting to know different horses and look forward to my lesson every week as a break from uni. Having spent most of my riding years hacking in the woods, I never imagined enjoyign spending time in a school, but I love every lesson. I don't think a single one has gone by where I haven't spent a great deal of time laughing either!
